ENGINUITY INTRODUCES 3 CARD GAMES IN COLLECTIBLE TINS

Enginuity Games has introduced 3 card games in colorful metal tins. The first of these games, Target, has been an best-seller for several years in its original tuck-box package. It's joined by two new games, Linx and Bid-It. Each game comes in a matching counter display.

"The tins are a wonderful addition as we've been able to keep the price the same while adding real value", said Andy Daniel, president of Enginuity Games. "The customers really like having a nearly indestructible place the store the cards."

Enginuity also publishes a line of award-winning solid wood games and magnetic puzzles. For more information or a complete catalog contact Enginuity Games at (888) 618-GAME, or +1 (408) 268-9740.
