FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

ENGINUITY INTRODUCES FREE IN-STORE DEMO UNITS FOR ENTIRE LINE OF SOLID WOOD GAMES

Enginuity Games has introduced a set of in-store demo units which will let customers learn and play any of its line of solid-wood games. Each demo unit includes a complete game and a self-adhesive instructional marquis that attaches to the game box.

“These demo units really let the customer see and feel the quality of our solid wood and glass games while giving them a quick overview of the rules, even if store personel are not available”, said Andy Daniel, president of Enginuity Games.

The demo units are free to retail stores with a 12-piece order. Stores carrying multiple games can get demo units for each game, and owners of multiple stores can get demo units for each store.

Enginuity also publishes a line of card games in metal tins and magnetic puzzles. For more information or a complete catalog contact Enginuity Games at (888) 618-GAME, or +1 (408) 268-9740.
